B-FREE: WHERE IDEAS COLLIDE

B-Free furniture forms neighbourhoods within the workplace. Seating, desk, tables and screens create spaces where people easily connect and collaborate, and the collision of ideas becomes a natural part of the work day.

DOES YOUR WORKPLACE ENCOURAGE INNOVATION?

Creativity blossoms in less formal, more casual places where it's easy to connect and collaborate with others. These spaces help foster new ideas and connections, the root of innovation.

In many offices, informal spaces offer limited seating and provide little privacy or support for technology.

To foster innovation, offer a palette of places: spaces where anyone in the organisation can quickly find an ideal place for connections with colleagues and impromptu collaborations.

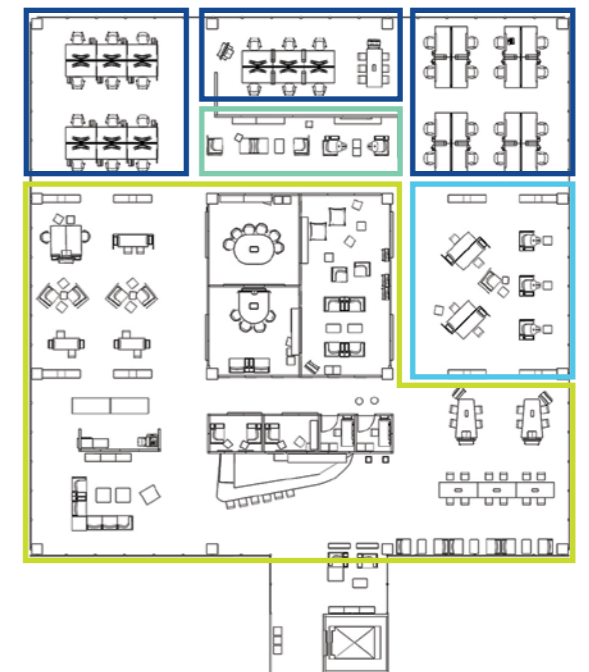

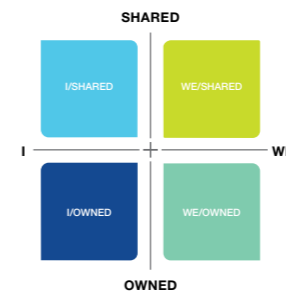

A PALETTE OF PLACE

Work is mobile and people need different places to support the variety of ways they work today. A change of place provides a fresh perspective, empowers employees and helps boost productivity.

B-Free offers a broad statement of line with a consistent aesthetic, making it easy to leverage space across the entire floorplan and create effective workspaces for individual concentration, connections with colleagues and collaborations with others.

COLLABORATE

PLANNING IDEAS

B-Free supports individual and group work through a wide range of application possibilities, from spaces for individual concentration to settings for informal connection and both planned and impromptu collaboration.

Find other planning ideas on the application cards available online.
 CAD files and symbols for these and other applications are available at steelcase.com

CONCENTRATE

Changing posture boosts productivity and wellbeing, so B-Free spaces work at stool or seated height to support short- and long-term tasks. Screens provide a subtle barrier from distractions, and power outlets and bag drops support technology and personal belongings.

CONNECT

Nearby informal spaces provide a welcome change during the work day, an opportunity to meet informally in a comfortable, relaxed posture, in a space at once removed yet still connected to the organisation.

6 HOURS

In a 24/7 world, the average person needs 6 hours of social interaction daily. Such connections increase wellbeing and minimise stress.
